

For art this week, we will be revisiting the concept of one-point perspective. I made a video of me drawing in one point perspective to refresh your memory. Please watch this as there are more details given for the work this week. In 6th grade, you had to make a word in one point perspective. This year, you can create a city scene, the interior of a room, random objects, a hallway, etc. Get creative!! Please DO NOT add color or shading this week. The lesson for next week will focus on the concept of atmospheric perspective. I am going to ask you to add color in a specific way, so don't get ahead of yourself.

Must Do:

1. Create a one-point perspective drawing.
2. Fill out the google form.

Can Do:

1. Share a picture of the drawing with me.

From this point forward, I am going to use the google form to track participation. If you do not fill it out, you will not be given participation credit for the week.

Links:

Tutorial

Google Form

One-Point Perspective