

Art Update 1:

Hey Sailors!

I will be periodically posting cool art websites and pictures that I would love for you to check out. My kids love to do art (or I just make them- haha) and we have found the website below really entertaining. The youtuber is a modern day Bob Ross and draws pictures in an easy to follow manner with his children. There are very easy drawings, to more advanced work. I would love for you to check it out and email me pictures of your creations. I have attached a picture of some of the art my kids did today by following along with this website. Andrew's is a fish, but he was so excited that he couldn't sit still.

You do not need to subscribe to draw and you can search him up on youtube as well. Happy Drawing!!!!!!

<https://www.artforkidshub.com/>