

Week of May 25- May 29

Happy second to last week of school! Next week will be our last week of virtual learning. While the end of the year is always sad, I know for most of you this will come as a bit of a relief, as virtual learning has NOT been even close to the same as being in the classroom with all of you. I mean, by now, you are supposed to be really sick of stories of my kids and fart jokes :).

For the remainder of our time, we will review Unidad 1, Etapa 1 and then take the chapter test at the end of next week, which will be a "must do" assignment but will not be graded. We will have one last zoom next week as a time to review as well as answer questions and say goodbye :(I will hope to see everyone there! No zoom this week.

Monday: NO SCHOOL, Happy Memorial Day!
